To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to express my interest in pursuing a position that aligns with my background in Information Technology, Technical Support, Web Design, or other related fields. As a recent Bachelor of Science in Computer Science graduate with hands-on experience from both academic and training environments, I am eager to contribute my skills, adaptability, and enthusiasm to a dynamic workplace.

Throughout my educational journey and on-the-job training, I gained practical experience in providing technical support during live events, managing inventory systems, troubleshooting network issues, and designing user-friendly web interfaces using Figma. I also assisted with QR-based logging systems and worked collaboratively on UI/UX design projects, which helped me build a strong foundation in both technical execution and team-based environments.

While I am a fresh graduate, I have a strong willingness to learn and adapt quickly. With proper guidance and training, I am confident that I can become a valuable and productive asset to any organization. My ability to absorb new information, combined with my passion for technology and continuous improvement, allows me to take on new challenges and responsibilities with confidence.

I am particularly interested in roles where I can use my skills to enhance efficiency, improve user experiences, and contribute to innovative solutions—especially those that explore the potential of AI, web technology, and IT support systems. I bring with me not only technical competence but also a positive attitude, strong communication skills, and a commitment to delivering quality results.

Thank you for taking the time to consider my application. I would welcome the opportunity to contribute to your team and grow professionally within your organization.

Warmest regards,

Brandon Alister L. Quijana
